Present debate topics on theory and practice, subjects we are learning in class (activism, grassroots archives, digital preservation, and so on) – allow participants to prepare ahead of time
- Make a Google doc for people to propose topics?
- Possible call for papers, workshop
- Invite leaders in the archival community to speak
- Duration of an afternoon or half a day
  - Online student satellite events – if we hear of an exhibit/archival event farther away, we can publicize it for students in the area who may want to get together and attend
